Dear Parents and Carers,

Current COVID-19 Advice

Please find below the main points from the current DFE guidance with regards to what needs to be done in the event of suspected and confirmed cases of coronavirus. You may also find the following link from the DFE useful: what they need to know about early years providers, schools and colleges during the coronavirus \(COVID-19\) outbreak.

Your child should not come to school if they or someone in their household is showing one or more of the main coronavirus symptoms of:

- a high temperature
- a new, continuous cough
- loss or change of their sense of taste or smell

It will then be important to arrange a test and we would need to be informed of the test results if a child or someone in their household has tested positive. We have to advise the local health protection team if a case of coronavirus is confirmed or there is an increase in absence rates among children and staff due to suspected and confirmed cases and they would then advise us what action is required.

Please be aware that your child may be asked to self-isolate for 14 days based on advice given from the local protection team.

Anyone with symptoms of COVID-19 however mild, must self-isolate for at least 10 days from when the symptoms started and arrange to take a test.

After 10 days, if you still have a temperature you should continue to self-isolate and seek medical advice. You do not need to self-isolate after 10 days if you only have a cough or loss of sense of smell or taste, as these symptoms can last for several weeks after the infection has gone.

All other household members need to stay at home and not leave the house for 14 days. The 14-day period starts from the day when the first person in the household became ill or if they do not have symptoms, from the day their test was taken. If anyone else in the household starts displaying symptoms, they need to stay at home for at least 10 days from when their symptoms appear, regardless of what day they are on in their original 14-day isolation period.

We will continue to keep you informed as and when we receive updates from the DFE which change how things will operate.

Kind regards

Andrea Revens
